Ralph Watkins Lecture Series

Fall 2012
at SUNY Oneonta

Muna Ndulo
Challenges of Peace Keeping: African Solutions to African Problems
Thursday, September 20, 2012 - 7:00 p.m.
Alden Room, Milne Library

Muna Ndulo is an internationally-recognized scholar, Professor of Law at Cornell Law School and Director of the Cornell University’s Institute for African Development. He is the author of 14 books and has published more than 80 articles in academic journals.

Don Hill
Jim Crow Era Field Recordings 1958—1961
Wednesday, November 28, 2012 - 12:00 noon
Alden Room, Milne Library

Dr. Donald R. Hill is a cultural anthropologist and Professor in the Departments of Anthropology and Africana and Latino Studies at SUNY Oneonta. He is an authority on Caribbean ethnography and ethnomusicology, and has published four books and a number of articles and reviews.

This event is sponsored by the The Africana & Latino Studies Department with generous support from: History Department, Center for Multicultural Experiences, Deans’ Offices and Sodexo

More information can be obtained through the Department of Africana and Latino Studies 436-2619.