SESSION I  10:30-12:00 p.m.

Panel 1, Le Café: FDR, the New Deal, & its Challengers
“The Quest for Civil Rights under the Roosevelt Administration” Freda Turner, Marist College
“Civic Nationalist Working-Class Culture during the New Deal: The Relationship between African Americans and the UAW in Detroit” Andrew Phinnsey, Hartwick College
“In Reckless Pursuit: Barry Goldwater, A Team of Amateurs, and the Rise of Conservatism” Nicholas D’Angelo, Union College
Chair and Comment: Danny Noorlander, Assistant Professor of History, SUNY Oneonta

Panel 2, Room 104: The World Wars
“Uncle Sam’s Wife: The Women’s Army Corps in World War II” Jordan Kortright, Hartwick College
“Great Britain’s Enlistment during the Great War” Anthony Delmonaco, Hartwick College
Chair and Comment: Matthew Hendley, Professor of History, SUNY Oneonta

Panel 3, Room 130: Church and State
“Kingship and Political Sanctity: Edward the Confessor and Edmund the Martyr, 1216-1399” Kelsey Haver, New York University
“The Power of the State over the Church: How Russian Leaders Used Orthodox Christianity to Increase the Power of the State” Luke Murphy, SUNY Oneonta
“Francis Le Jau and Anglican Conversion” Ben Detar, Hartwick College
Chair and Comment: Connie Shemo, Associate Professor of History, SUNY Plattsburgh

LUNCH  12:05- 1:00 p.m. Le Café, Morris Conference Center

Keynote Address: “History Major to History PhD: Pursuing Historical Studies from Undergraduate to Graduate School”
Dr. Meagan Butler, PhD, University of Glasgow

SESSION II  1:05-2:35 p.m.

Panel 4, Le Café: (Mis) Fortunes of War and Life
“A America at War” Danielle Dake, Marist College
“Thy memory is and will be sweete unto mee: Parent’s Reactions to the Death of Their Children in Seventeenth Century England” Danielle George, Hartwick College
“A Forgotten Watershed: The Five Nations and the Civil War” Joseph Connelly, Marist College
“The National Period: The Phenomena of Exclusive Inclusion” Rosemarie Martens, Marist College
Chair and Comment: Mette Harder, Assistant Professor of History, SUNY Oneonta

Panel 5, Room 104: Destruction and Reconstruction in Asia
“Abraham Lincoln Brigade” Stephan Ramirez, SUNY Plattsburgh
Chair and Comment: Kristin Bayer, Assistant Professor of History, Marist College

Panel 6, Room 130: Masculinity, Leadership, and the Family in English Worlds
“The Duelist’s Dilemma: Civil Courtesy or Crime of Carnage” Peter Arruda, SUNY Oneonta
“Indians and Savages: European Perceptions of Native Americans in the Canadian Fur Trade, 1763-1821” John Boudreau, Hamilton College
“The King, The General, The Slave: The First Triumvirate of Rebellion” Peter Quinn, SUNY Oneonta
“1588: Luck or Leadership?” Joshua Fitzgibbons, SUNY Oneonta
Chair and Comment: Vicki Howard, Associate Professor of History, Hartwick College

COFFEE  2:35- 2:50 p.m. Le Café, Morris Conference Center
SESSION III  2:50- 4:10 p.m.

Panel 7, Le Café:  Questioning Cultures

“Men of Steel & Sentinels of Freedom: Captain America and Superman in World War II”
Richard Deverell, SUNY Brockport

“Political Cartoons in the Classroom: An Effective and Underutilized Teacher’s Aid”
Scott Sheehan, SUNY Plattsburgh

Chair and Comment: April Harper, Associate Professor of History, SUNY Oneonta

Panel 8, Room 104:  US and the World

“Nunca Olvide: Reframing the History of Cuban Exile Terrorism”
Miles Wilkerson, Eastern Connecticut State University

Amelia Brackett, New York University

“The Grim Reaper Visited: The 1918 Influenza Epidemic in Rural Western New York”
David Pomplas, SUNY Brockport

“The Blues: An Arti-form”
Michael D’Addario, Marist College

Chair and Comment: Sean Kelley, Associate Professor of History, Hartwick College

Panel 9, Room 130:  Women on the Front Lines

“Missionaries and Wives: The Women who Came to New France and Helped Build the Colony”
Erin Berschwinger, SUNY Oneonta

“Anonymous Was a Woman: An Inside Look of Married Woman on the American and Russian Frontiers”
Irene Manoussos, SUNY Oneonta

“Morale, Myth, and Mass-Observation: Re-examining the Myth of Civilian Morale in Second World War Britain”
Donna O’Connor, SUNY Oneonta

“Systematic and Genocidal: The Use of Rape in the Genocide of Bosnia and Herzegovina”
Jessica Bastone, SUNY Plattsburgh

Chair and Comment: Cherilyn Lacy, Professor of History, Hartwick College

CLOSING AND PRIZES
4:15- 5:00 p.m. Le Café, Morris Conference Center