

DEDICATION

For his love of teaching, for his commitment to his students, and for all he has done to promote the open and free exchange of ideas, this issue of Educational Change is dedicated to

Dr. Norman J. Bauer.

NOTE OF THANKS

Of the many who have helped with this project special thanks go to Barbara Paugh, Manager of Publications at SUNY-Oneonta. She has provided much sound advice and has been especially generous with her already stretched resources. Susan Hartley of the same department has worked assiduously on both the Spring, 1995 and the Spring, 1996 issues of Educational Change. She has been most cooperative and attentive to details, which in no small way, have guaranteed outstanding results. Wayne Byam Supervisor of the Print Shop has been meticulous in insuring technically superior workmanship. The work speaks for itself.

Professors Michael Green and Douglas Shrader both of SUNY-Oneonta have been especially generous with editorial assistance; they made many helpful suggestions, and I am most grateful to them. I thank all the members of the Philosophy Department at SUNY - Oneonta for their encouragement and support as well as all the members of the N.Y.S.F.E.A. for the trust they placed in me. Both Marge Holling and Pat Caswell have provided outstanding secretarial help under extremely tight schedules. Finally, thanks are due to President Alan Donovan of SUNY-Oneonta for his kind words and the interest he has shown for these endeavors.
