

UUP Labor Film Series Kickoff
Thursday, Feb. 28, 4-6 p.m.
Hunt Union Red Dragon Theater

"Oh, you can't scare me, I'm stickin' to the Union."

Bound for Glory (1976) is based on folk singer Woody Guthrie's 1943 autobiography.

Academy Award winning music and cinematography!
Golden Globe winning acting and directing!
Free Popcorn

Forged by the Dust Bowl and Great Depression of the 1930s, Woody Guthrie did hard traveling and labored at many jobs. He was a strong supporter of the American worker and of the union movement. His music criticized the political, and economic status quo while invoking democratic American principles. Guthrie's socially-conscious music includes "Union Maid" and the classic "This Land is Your Land."

Who challenged America's conscience before Bob Dylan?

Who had a sticker reading "This Machine Kills Fascists" on his guitar?